

Beans & Lentils

Most Washington beans are grown in the Columbia Basin.

Beans are a good source of protein. Our bodies use protein to build and maintain our muscles.

Beans grow in a rainbow of colors: black, pink, red and white to name a few.